PROJECT PROFILE: 2019

Manitoba and Alberta, Canada

REASON FOR PLANTING

Planting projects in two Canadian locations have been selected this year. The first is Swan Lake First Nation Indian Reserve, located in south-central Manitoba. The land currently has sparse tree cover and many fragmented open areas – greatly in need of additional tree cover. The second project involves replanting the town of Fort McMurray in the wake of a damaging wildfire in May of 2016.

Reestablishing
forest cover in a
fragmented area

Enhancing habitat
for many birds,
mammal and reptile
species

Restoring much-needed community
and forest trees
in the wake of a
wildfire
