PROJECT PROFILE: 2020

Montana Palentina National Park, Spain

REASON FOR PLANTING

Having faced major fires in 2005 and 2016, Montana Palentina National Park in northern Spain has been left with no way to regenerate naturally. Local municipalities lack the resources to restore the forest cover, but with the help of Enterprise, replanting efforts can move forward.

Replanting forest areas devastated by wildfire

Reestablishing important habitat for wildlife such as bears and wolves

Recreating dynamic forest ecosystems and increasing biodiversity potential
